Musical Memories

Music proves to be the background for all our high school memories as each of us looks Among Our Souvenirs.

Settling down to the scholastic grind last fall while The Things We Did Last Summer were fresh memories . . . Seeing all the gang and realizing that It's Been a Long, Long Time since the last meetings . . . Soon the cool days came, an Autumn Serenade . . . The brotherly unity as we sang Onward, Christian Soldiers at weekly devotional programs . . . Fight, You Black Demons was always the theme of the pep rallies . . . Halloween Teen-Age dances, where everyone hummed, I Know those leisurely summer days were years ago . . . Come Ye Thankful People, Come at Thanksgiving to present the turkeys and gifts . . . Winter Wonderland that came with sleet and snow, just before Yuletide holidays . . . The strains of O Come, All Ye Faithful drawing us to Christian services . . . Looking forward to the dances All Through the Day . . . The nostalgia of New Year's Eve before we joined the gang for Auld Lang Syne . . . School again and Blue Skies weather for annual pictures . . . Resolutions to study some, not say If I'm Lucky, I'll pass this term . . . Harmony Hangout and Junior Jive, where we got a scrap of decorations For Sentimental Reasons . . . Racing with the Moon after the numerous spring semi-formals . . . Easter week-end, with early morning services Sunday, when we walked in The Easter Parade . . . Spring, when each day seemed to be My Lazy Day . . . Class Day, as Uncle Remus Says seemed mild, compared with class prophecies . . . That relieved feeling of It's All Over Now after exams and term papers were Passe.

Finally, the evening of June third, when the Seniors said, "This Is the Night," and suddenly knew they would remember high school Always.

PRINT SHOP

With "Preservers of the Art Preservative" as its motto, the Reynolds High School Print Shop has accomplished many things during this past year, 1946-47. They have printed each copy of the three sections of the newspaper, Pine Whispers, Hanes Hi Rada, and Gray Light. Since Christmas, they have worked efficiently on the Annual. Although most of the time is concentrated on the newspaper and annual, they have done job printing and have published football programs, report cards and other forms requested by the city schools. The boys working in the print shop have often come back at night to complete their work.

A Printers' Club which meets every Thursday during the specified time for clubs has been formed. The officers of this organization are Herman Yarbrough, president; Benny Templeton, vise-president; and Maurice Moser, secretary and treasurer. This spring they held two socials, a picnic and a banquet which was served in the cafeteria at Reynolds.

The staff is made up of those who manage particular machines. Wayne Arton, Vance Mullis, Zebulon D. Vance, and Bill Nifong are in charge of the linotype; the presswork is done by Gray Cranfill and Earl Norris; chief copyreader is Linden Edwards; Maurice Moser and Charles Crater are job setters; and the bindery is managed by all of the print shop boys. Under the guidance of Samuel J. Lawrence, their adviser, they deserve much recognition as real citizens of Reynolds High School, and in the future many of these boys will take their places in the print shops of tomorrow.

DEBATING CLUB

(Statement made by Mr. Winfield Blackwell, former Reynolds High School debator; former president of the Dialetic Debating Society and graduate of the University of North Carolina; graduate of the School of Law of Yale University; former Lieutenant-Commander with the Seventh Fleet, United States Navy; Forsyth Representative to the State General Assembly.)

"Most of us do not fully appreciate the value of a particular subject which we have studied until we observe whether or not it has actual value for us in our everyday life. When I studied debating in high school, I certainly didn't realize how very important it would later be to me. Debate training teaches a person to analyze a question by studying the facts, reasoning out the logical grounds which support the affirmative or the negative and being able to express clearly the arguments in a convincing manner rather than by an emotional appeal.

"Basically, any person should know debating principles in order to be effective in convincing others, whether on the debating platform in high school or in a civic club or in the law-making halls in our State Capitol or in Congress. I have noticed the greater success enjoyed by Legislators sponsoring Legislation, who are experienced debators, as compared with those who have had no such training. As for myself, the 'proof of the pudding' is that I am very grateful for having had training in debating when I was in school."

RELIGIOUS DRAMA CLUB

The Religious Drama Club, which meets every Thursday morning under the direction of Mrs. Stella J. Price, Bible teacher at Reynolds High School, has as its purpose to promote interest in Bible study through religious drama and to instill in its members a desire to practice the principles learned from the Bible.

In addition to the programs presented at the regular meetings, the club sponsored again this year a Bible-reading program that extended from Thanksgiving to Christmas and was carried on in all the schools throughout the city. This progrm was introduced with an original pageant given by the members of the club, "The Light That Shines in Darkness." Leaflets from the American Bible Society with Bible references were distributed in all the city schools to aid students in their day-by-day readings.

Another event the club sponsored this year was the banquet for the city and county Bible departments in the Reynolds cafeteria on March 7. School officials, ministers, and interested patrons were guests in order that they might understand more thoroughly the work of the Bible department.

As usual, the members of the club participated in the annual Christmas and Easter pageants, which have become an enjoyable event looked forward to each year.

The club does not confine itself to the study of the Bible alone but seeks to put to use some of the truths learned. The social service and outside program committees arranged for the club to present a program this year to one of the outside institutions, and again this year they sent cards and baskets of fruit to the sick.

Active committees of the club include the worship, customs, program, and social service committees.

The officers are Loy Witherspoon, president; Nancy Ingle, vice-president; Ann Wilson, secretary; Robert Woosley, treasurer.

The Religious Drama Club has contributed in many ways to the cultural and religious life of Reynolds High School, and its members have derived real benefits from its activities.

GIRL'S BEGINNING VOICE CLASS

In the fall of 1946 a new voice class was organized by Miss Louise Highsmith of the Music Department. The purpose of the class is to give girls who have had little or no previous voice training an opportunity to learn how to sing, and to participate in programs given by the class.

The "Girls' Beginning Voice Class" is composed of forty-three girls taken from the ninth, tenth, eleventh, and twelfth grades. They are divided into three groups—first soprano, second soprano and alto. They have learned to sing both solo parts and choral parts and have studied correct usage of the voice culture. Classical, semí-classical, folk, religious, and popular songs all have a place in their daily schedule.

The Voice Class has sung at various churches in the city and has participated in several chapel programs, both of religious and non-religious natures. During the year, soloists on the programs have been Constance Reynolds and Jane Bauldin.

The group sings and sings often for the entertainment of other people and for the pure enjoyment and pleasure of singing. During the coming years the class hopes to be a bright spot in our community and school and shall endeavor to help musically talented girls onto the path of success.

GIRLS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

Three years ago the Girls' Athletic Association was formed with the purpose of improving girls' athletics in the school and giving as many girls as possible a chance to participte in varied sports. A constitution was drawn up patterned after that of the Girls' Physical Education Association of North Carolina. The association has grown into a large service organization of the school and now has a membership of sixty girls.

To become a member of this organization a girl must earn 50 points under the new system or already have received a monogram in soccer, basketball, softball, or tennis under the old system. After this year all classes will be under the new point system.

This year the association has encouraged intramural sports and more participation in sports. It was most successful in having one hundred and five girls reporting for basketball and seventy reporting for soccer.

Officers for 1946-47, who were elected in the spring of 1946, are as follows: Helen Chapple, president; Lillian Butner, secretary; Marjorie Moore, treasurer; and Mary Ann Zimmerman, point recorder. These girls, along with the managers of the varied sports, made up the council of the Association, which devoted much time toward smoothing out any difficulties in the club.

To complete a sketch of the Girls' Athletic Association, mention must be made of its sponsors, Mrs. Dorothy Jones and Miss Anne Wilson. They have devoted much time toward helping the club, and they deserve much of the credit for helping it to be a success in Reynolds High School.

BOYS' MONOGRAM CLUB

The Monogram Club of Reynolds High School is composed of letter-winners in the various phases of athletics offered in Reynolds High. Each new member must be approved by the old members before he can become active in the many club functions.

Each Thursday morning witnesses a new program presented by a program committee to the group. The club members have had motion pictures petaining to various athletic, sports quizzes, and various other forms of entertainment during the past year.

At the outlet of the 1946-47 school season, the established members of the club called a meeting to choose officers to serve throughout the year. Those chosen were B. T. Henderson, president; Sid Whiteheart, vice-president; and Tommy Connelly, secretary and treasurer. These officers have proven themselves to be capable leaders throughout the year, and have set a fine example for the younger athletes in the school.

The Monogram Club has performed several helpful jobs for the school during the year. Thy were in charge of the sale of programs at athletic events. The Monogram club also took charge of their annual religious chapel program, and presented the student body with one of the best programs of the year.

The most outstanding in the club's activities was the sponsoring of the annual Monogram club dance, which was again a great success. Music was supplied by the Reynolds High Swing Band, and during the evening each member of the organization was personally introduced to the dancers by the Master of Ceremonies. Thanks to the ceaseless efforts of the club members, the dance was the most successful one ever given.

Mr. Hal Bradley, Reynolds High Athlectic Director, is the faculty advisor of the club and has rendered an invaluable service to the club with his many beneficial suggestions and fine supervision.

LIBRARY COUNCIL

The Library Council is a volunteer organization which helps in the Library. They check books in and out of the main reading room. There are approximately thirty boys and girls in this organization.

Besides working in the library during the regular periods, the group has a meeting each Wednesday morning. The programs run in a series. At one meeting various books are discussed by the group; at the next meeting, current events are presented and talked about; during the third meeting there are training lessons in library work. Throughout, real valuable lessons are taught through these weekly meetings. The fourth meeting is everybory's favorite—a social—and then the procedure is started over.

Loy Witherspoon is president of the Council; vice-president, Iva Jean Gordon; secretary, Byron Smitherman; treasurer, Miriam Swaim. The program chairman is changed each month, and there is an art committee in charge of publicity, which consists of Bill Trotman, Polly Hartle, Martha Maynard, Frank Driscoll, and Charles Tomlinson. This group is in charge of fixing the Library show cases and blackboards.

This year, the Library Council sponsored a tea for the faculty and parents of the council members, and Miss Annie Graham Caldwell, head-librarian and sponsor of the council, gave the group a valentine party, which was a big success. These two events constituted the social high lights of the year.

The Library staff is a very active group, and they attribute much of their success in their endeavors to Miss Caldwell and Miss Weaver, the two librarians.

Distributive Education

Distributive Education provides vocational training for the field of distribution. Juniors and Seniors, preferably the latter, who are sixteen years old, receive technical and general training in classes especially patterned to give practical knowledge for "in-store" jobs. Trainees spend a part of each day in a local store where managers and department heads further the training toward permanent employment after graduation. Extension training for "in-store" personnel is also a part of the community program.

REYNOLDS LOOKS INTO THE FUTURE

Time: 1967

Setting: Ramona Powell, authoress, talking to Sarah Carter, accountant. Ramona is in the midst of writing a a book on what happened to the class of '47. Sarah helps her gather data.

Sarah:

After many weary nights of toil
With pepsies, friends, Mona and me
From bits of knowledge, sometimes called soil,

(Dirt to you) we have laborously written this prophecy.

Who knows how much will ever come true?

Who can tell what really will happen to us?

But we tried our best with what we knew;

So here is the story in '67, and please don't fuss.

Ramona: Where have you been for the last twenty years?

S.: Advancing myself. Not all the knowledge is learned in college, you know. Say, I read your lastest book, "Memoirs of Stage Coach Days." That must have been the life.

R.: Yes, but after recuperating from writing it at Henderson's Home for Haggled Hens, where Byron Smitherman is Chief Petty Officer, I feel like facing life once more.

S.: Believe me, I've been having troubles too, mainly getting office help. Gerry Law left his position here as head office boy to accompany Ned Vaughn-Lloyd on an expedition to Upper Slobbovia. Ned is going to start a Boy Scout troop there. Peggy Benbow and her assistant, Julia Carmichael, blazed the trail by establishing a library in the capitol. Another old acquaintance down there is Burke Wilson, Chief 'Possum Hunter. Anyway, I was about at my wit's end about the manpower situation when I saw Joe Wilson, who consented to take over this accounting while I go on a vacation.

R.: This is great. You see, I have had some competition from the novel, "For Whom the Phone Rings," by Blum and DuBose; and I am planning a new book, "Forever Class of '47." I would like to do about six months' research on what everyone is doing, and it would be wonderful if you could pick up some bits of information for me.

S.: I should be glad to. By the way, have you heard the Royal Carolinians playing at the Waldorf-Castoria with Allen Goslen, Peggy Wolff, Jack Phelps, Bill Calaway, Dick Bynum, and, at the piano, Janice Wear? Music commentator, Loy Witherspoon, reported that it will be the band of the year.

R.: No, I haven't. But speaking of music, I read in the New York Moon, which is edited by Zeb Vance, that Berletta Snyder, Nancy Ingle, and Dot Anglin made their debut at the Cosmopolitan, managed by Alva Johnson.

S.: And I read on the sports page that Frank Hill and Bobby Lyons have signed with the New York Rebels, of which Billy Fritts is already a member; that Mary Ann Zimmerman, Frances Williamson, Dot Teague, Rosa Lee Speas, and Katie Hauser in a Trot Poll conducted by Dr. Fred Church were selected to play in the Powder Bowl, owned and operated by Pretty Boy Bill Davis; I also saw that Coach Dave Poole has made Dean Angell chief water boy and, to make Carol Parker happy, has advanced Robert Prongay from errand boy to track star down at N.C.P. U. (North Carolina Polyechnique University); and on the front page, that Sam Joyner is running for his sixth term as president. With Diane Lee as his Secretary of Domestic affairs, he can't lose.

R.: I will have my secretary, Charles Leinbach, compile all of this for my book. By the way, Barbara Brown, Doris Talbert, and Ann Correll have consented to do any art work I might need. To put it on the market, I have had a bid from Nicholson's Nickle Publications, backed by Richard Wertz, who has two-cent interest in it. Well, I must be dashing along. Salesgirls Betty Jean and Norma Lee Coleman invited me down to Sax 4th St. to see a fashion show, sponsored by manager, Alyce Valaer. I just can't miss Peggy Wingate. They say she is a model extraordinary. I'm sure you saw, on the front of Rogue's Magazine, Peg Pope's picture in that gorgeous ensemble designed by Jo Brewer.

S.: Yes, Robert Latham called it to my attention. Just a minute. I'll call my secretary, Carolyn Cooke, to take over, and we will go over to Pappas's Sky-High Lunch for a bite to eat.

R.: O. K. Say, on the way up I saw an old friend of ours. Emily Green, running the elevator.

Six Months Pass

S.: Well, the six months have passed. It is time Ramona got back. Can't wait to tell her about all the people I saw.

R.: Sarah, I am really loaded with news. It is amazing how many of the old gang have ended up in New York. I dropped by the new El Morono Club and who should be running the place but Glenn Clubb. His star attraction is Pat Reece, a celebrated acrobat. At a front table was man-about-town Dicky Adams. Love lorn columnist, Tommy Connelly with his blond assistant was madly taking notes on the situation for future reference.

S.: Wait till you hear about the beaches. At Carolina, Jack Boyle has started a soon-to-be-famous "Boyle's Billiards for Bums" with little Bill Davis holding controlling interest. I also saw the Nance Song and Dance run by Nancy Wilkerson and Co. Then over at Ocean Drive were Durwood Jones, Johnny Kingry, and Sam Pappas discussing weather, women, and waves.

R.: Fine. Did I tell you about the "Frazier, Friend of Fat Folk" reducing agency? It is really quite the place this year. And Kyle Barnes is running an institution called "Barnes" Barn for Building Bodies."

S.: Humm,—we will have to drop around sometime soon. I came through Winston-Salem on the way back and had a nice long chat with Dorothy Wachovia Apartments. She was telling Porter, who is now manager of the me that Hilda Smith has recently been made head of the Welfare Department. Marion Davis has a new swimming pool, "The Davis Dive and Doodle." Co-owner, Joe McAllister, is deeply interested in the bathing beauties, especially a beautiful blond one.

R.: Look!—the window—if it isn't Cecil Brandon washing windows. He must be finally getting up in the world. Oh, I went by the Moon the other day and saw Betty Ann Hall, who is doing sports features for the Powder Bowl. There is a new article by Carolyn Johnson on the art of playing bridge called "Finesse the Mess." It is being read by millions of people who have nothing better to do.

S.: I had a stop-over on the train from Winston and happened to see Richard Craft, who is still delivering milk to the Abigail-Matilda Home for Failing Feeble Folk. (Remember, run by Johnson and Joyner?) He gave me the latest report on the Williford vs. Spillers case being tried by that lawyer, S. E. Edwards.

R.: While I was in Hollywood, I heard that both John "Loverman" Smitherman and David "Brother, that man" Hinkle were being considered for leading roles in Mitzi Gregory's new picture. Another who is working hard is Carolyn Hodges, busy raising Georgia Peaches. And I hear that Bob Goodwin is going mad trying to figure out Ted Young's Theory on Relativity.

Ś.: Speaking of the South, I got a letter from Ann Coleman and, of all things, she is in South Carolina designing Bell Hop Uniforms. Helen Chapple is also in the clothing business as assistant manager of the International Hat and Shirt Shop.

R.: Have you heard about the expedition of Doctors Avera and Herring? You know they went up to the planet Venus to determine the full extent of Prof. Van Hoy's theory on physics for failing physiques.

S.: No, but I think this will interest you. While I was in the Carolinas, I happened to catch the East Polo Road bus, and who should be driving but Bill Julian? At the next corner Chloris got on, and we had quite a nice chat. They told me that Betsy Powell has just purchased Morris Service. You know it's too bad a P. U. didn't get it, but, then, we're always putting off things anyway.

Excuse me, Ramona. Hello. Yes, all right. Goodbye. . . That was Julian Morton calling from his drugstore. He wanted to know if tomorrow would be too late for the things I ordered. It seems his delivery boy, J. W. James, is quitting and won't deliver them.

R.: That reminds me. Don't ask me

More Doctors smoke Camels Than any other cigarette

• Like the rest of us, doctors smoke for pleasure. Their taste recognizes and appreciates full flavor and cool mildness just as yours does.

And when 113,597 doctors were asked to name the cigarette they smoked, more doctors named Camels than any other brand.

Three nationally known independent research organizations conducted the survey. They queried doctors in every branch of medicine.

how; it just does. Anne Wilson told me the other day that both Iva Jean Gordon and Polly Hartle are helping Carlotta make her Nursery for Needy Numbskulls a success in Chapel Hill. Flo Valear, who is putting Durham on the map as a cheerleader for Duke, is rumored to be cheering the coach, not the team. REYNOLDS HISTORY OF THE CLASS OF 1947

Setting—Journalism Room.

(Peggy and Jane are seen poring over the annuals as the February 1 deadline creeps closer and closer.)

Peggy: Ah! Here's a starter—Diane Lee, who is definitely the most promising in our class. Let's see what she's done. When freshman, our class elected her to serve as our treasurer. In the spring of that year we chose her to hold the office of treasurer of the student body for the next term. Since, she's held at some time every office of the student council.

In her junior year she was inducted into the National Honor Society and was elected president at the city-wide Honor Society convention. We chose her to represent us as our D.A.R. candidate.

Jane: It would be appropriate to mention next that outstanding boy from Kernersville, Sam Joyner, who entered our class in his junior year. Since then he has made speedy progress in our school activities, both service and social. We elected Sam to be president of the senior class and the boy Most Likely to Succeed and the Most Intellectual.

Peggy: The third leader of our class is, of course, Sarah Carter. I'll just put down a list of her activities. She was vice-president of the National Honor Society, junior council representative, recipient of the school service award, and also our class prophet.

Jane: I guess we'd better reserve this little spot for Carlotta Crutchfield, as she is clerk of the court and cheerleader and has been Hi-Y sponsor for two years. Then she topped all other members of our class by receiving three superlative titles: Best All Round, Most Popular, and Cleverest.

Peggy: Tall and lanky Jim Walker, leader of the House of Represntatives, directs misguided students and contributes to school athletics. He was also council representative twice and treasurer of the junior class.

Jane: Don't forget that the twins, Alice and Flo, who do almost everything together, were both senior marshals and cheerleaders.

Peggy: Let's put in a little plug for the editors-in-chief in the publications department, Barbara Austin and Frances Blum, who have done exceptional work in the journalism field and who are members of the Quill and Scroll.

Jane: Remember that Peggy Benbow missed a year and then joined our class. She was elected treasurer of the National Honor Society. We chose her as the Most Intellectual girl of the senjor class

Peggy: This is the place to mention those outstanding in the various fields of extra-curricular activities. The music department drafted many of our class into its services: Miriam Swaim, Loy Witherspoon, Bill Calaway, Janice Wear, Alva Johnson, Allen Goslen, and Carolyn Cooke, who has also rendered many other services to the school.

Jane: The Honor Society inducted twenty-five of our class. We have already mentioned our officers. The others include Conrad Avera, Carolyn Cooke, Carolyn Hodges, Carolyn Fulcher, Diane Lee, Jimmy Walker, Frances Blum, Iva Jean Gordon, Miriam Swaim, Loy Witherspoon, Anne Coleman, Betty Ann Hall, J. W. James, Chloris Davidson, Bill Calaway, Sam Joyner, Pat Reece, Gladys Martin, Betty Sue Crotts, Mitzi Gregory, Anne Wilson, and Berletta Snyder.

Peggy: In the journalism and art departments were Barbara Anne Brown, Betty Ann Hall, Doris Talbert, and Anne Coleman.

Jane: Our orators and actors are Ramona Powell, Bob Goodwin, Polly Hartle, Emily DuBose, and S. E. Edwards; and the ones chosen to be our superlatives are Marion Davis, Bill Davis, Peggy Lee Wingate, and Durwood Jones.

Peggy: We had our little black demon who performed various tricks during pep rallies and football games, Pat Reece. The outstanding male athletes of our class are Bob Lyons, B. T. Henderson, Burrel Dean Angell, David Poole, Kyle Barnes (we might add here that he was also president of the Honor Society), Glenn Clubb, Tommy Connelly, Robert Prongay, Dave Russell, and Charles Lineback. Among the girls we have representing us Faye Marshall, Frances Williamson, Dot Teague, Katie Hauser, Helen Chappell, Mary Ann Zimmerman, and Norma Lee and Betty Jean Coleman.

That just about concludes the list of those who have made the senior class history possible at Reynolds High School.

GRAY PROPHECY OF THE CLASS OF 1947

By Madeline Sage

Listening one day to Benny Good-man's latest recording and trying at the same time to do my lessons, I suddenly felt carried away on the wings of music. With a wave of the baton off I sailed—and with a start found myself in New York of 1960.

Who's this coming down the street? Why, it's an old school chum of '47, Jean Saige. She's in the millinery business fashioning hats for that new radio show, with Opal Jane Rule as Mistress of Ceremonies. Opal really does something for hats—what, no one will venture to say!

Why, here's the famous Nell Bauguss Dress Salon, which I've heard so much about. Jacquelyn Joyner and Peggy Jane Brown, with their superb modeling ability, are selling those Foushee creations like magic. Behind the cosmetics counter advertising the Nan Craver Creme Shampoo "for the beautiful look" are Virginia Long and Betty Thrift. What a dress salon doesn't have these days isn't much. I see that Sara Wilson, Bonnie Salmons, DeEtte Bryant, and Virginia Long are taking advantage of "Hints on the Care of Children," with Betty Haley as consultant.

Hmm—I think I'll drop in at the "Clinard's Courier," best newspaper in the North and see what's what. There's Doug Carter, managing editor, bustling around with his "newsy nose" gathering the latest in the way of sports. The work must be getting him—the weight he has lost! There's Emma Jean Willard typing away at her desk. (I understand she took the place of Dorothy Dix when Dorothy Dix retired.) Emma Fogle's high school experience has really come in good. As editor of the Courier she is known as the first woman business tycoon. Mack Goforth is handling the finances, of course.

ALL ABOARD!!! I'm off on the B Flat Express bound for Hollywood. Gee, there goes Van Johnson—oh, I forgot he went out of pictures long ago. It must be that (swoon) Bruce Harrison. What a man! There goes Lib Wyatt, too, who really rates with the public. W. M. Foil has an enviable job photographing those "Lovelies" of 1960. Sam Long has made quite a name for himself with his superb directing of movies, and Frank Snider has proved himself an excellent assistant.

Looking in on the musical side of Hollywood, I find that "88 Keys" Templeton is still producing that "solid sending jive." He is also an accomplished concert pianist, as he plays for Clara Ridge, the girl with the golden operatic voice. Daniel Hodge is directing the All-Girl Orchestra. I should never have imagined his doing that! Carl Dorsett can't make up his mind between a stage career and that of crooner (like Frankie, that is.)

Even Hollywood has a business district; so I'll just saunter up that way and see how 'tis. Here's the Rominger School of Shorthand. The motto of the school is "Enter at your own risk!" Doris Thornton is one of the best teachers (I wonder from whom she learned the trade). Hilda Leach is now secretary to Jack Jones, the banker who made a fortune selling Stamey Hairpins. It was quite a task for Erle Hutchins to invent a typewriter which wouldn't smoke when Miriam Gwaltney got started. She already has a world title and is still going up. Martha Jean Rhodes gave up her position in the recreational department to become principal of the Pringle School for Misses. I understand she is quite a success, though I don't quite get it. For a whiz at figures, and I do mean numerals, there is no better than Betty Willard. Thurmond Fussell has also settled for a position with the L. D. Hutch'ns Bookkeeping Firm.

Night time does come so I'll have to stop my sight-seeing for the time being. I surely am enjoying this trip on the wings of music. This hotel seems to be just the place I'm looking for-why, no wonder-it's under the management of David Hepler. BELLBOY! Say, isn't your name James Dyson? You always said you liked "bags," but I didn't dream you meant luggage. And here's Arnold Lane, house detective for the hotel. Billy Ray Leamon and Bill Hildreth seem to be staying for the night also. I guess they are just back from another hunting expedition in Africa. Will surprises never end? There's Boyd Stout, and I do believe he is even better looking than he was in '47. Of course, now, it may be that mustache which makes him so distinguished looking. Bill Triplett, his publicity manager, and Ted Williams, his valet, look pretty much "under the weather." (Bobby Soxers I suppose). Billy Lee Robertson and James Scott, the Abbott and Costello combination of 1960, are guests, too. Their wit could make even a sour pickle grin.

Today I'll board the A Flat Airliner and visit my old school chum in Southern California, where the sun never shines. Dee Smith, of all people to be a pilot! You never did seem to keep your feet on the ground, though. Who's that other pilot—why, if it isn't Jerry Flowers. Here are Louise Dockery, Pat Baynes, and Edith Murphy, air hostesses. My, how time does change things! I surely am lucky, for just look who is to sit beside me on the trip—that eminent scientist, Glynn Sprinkle and his assistant, Tommy

30 years of faithful service to Winston-Salem and vicinity

We offer you PAINTS, GLASS and WALL PAPERS from nationally known houses Welch. In school when he wasn't "cutting a rug," and she wasn't with that dream boy, they were mixing compounds to see what would result (speaking from experience, at times they weren't so sweet!)

Well, here we are in California. H-m-m-I see there's to be a football game and that dynamic duet, Hubert Casey and Jimmy Cook, are playing. "Tot" Messick is still exercising her lungs to the best advantage by being the entire cheering squad—well, that is, practically. Coach Coy Bovender says he has high hopes for a winning team.

I wonder what's happening on the homefront these days. ZOOM—and Winston-Salem it is! Mayor Pierce, that prodigy from way back, has really made some changes. James Vestal and G. A. Williard are co-operators of the biggest theater business in the South.

Something new has been added—hum-m—Station JAGHG owned by Ralph Atkinson and Buddy Childress. One of the more popular advertisements states, "If you want a wave like A. C. Baity's, be a customer at Katie's." Of course, Kate Zimmerman is owner of the beauty salon and Ernest Hayes, Johnny Speer, and George Taylor arrange those exquisite coiffeurs.

Brother! Nothing can top this trip I am having. Why, here is the "Gallagher Curb Service." Jacquelyn and Wanda Edwards are quite sensational as singing waitresses. For entertainment there are D. Alldred and his orchestra. Dot Blevins is featured pianist, with Marian Davis holding the spotlight as vocalist.

Why, there are Betty Culbreth and Mary Lou Williams shopping for their cute little bungalows. Ramona Cartner is soon to join them in matrimony.

I believe I'll drop in and see how Charles Murphy is progressing in his trucking concern. Kenneth Carter, Luther Davis, and Joe Smith are driving trucks for the company. Ruth Cornatzer is morale builder, and Wilma Beck coaches the office basketball team. Rebecca Nichols, Billie Mae Caudle, and Bonnie Crotts handle the office end of the business.

Well, it's back to New York for me. Here's that popular novel I've heard so much about, Looking Ahead, by Betty Wilkes. I notice that Babs Lemmons and Jean Simpson helped get the information. The Pappas Publishing Company, under the capable management of Jesse Willard, printed the book.

Gee, New York seems to be fading away—away. Take it from me, Benny Goodman can surely send you "out of this world," but records do end and back I come to reality—though still in my head the music goes "round and round."

GRAY HISTORY OF THE CLASS OF 1947

Barbara Lemmons

"Where do we go from here?" was one of the many questions we, as green freshmen, asked ourselves and others upon our first glimpse of Gray High School. To many of us who came from small grammar schools, the sight of the long corridors, endless classrooms, various "up and down" stairs, and swinging doors seemed like an endless maze of we knew not what. Ralph Atkinson was the first member of our class to hold an office of the school. He was elected assistant secretary in the spring of 1944.

In our sophomore year, since we had become better acclimated, we began diligently to "Follow the Gleam," which was the beacon light of the Gray spirit. Our class was well represented in the field of journalism, with Emma Jean Willard and Emma Fogle elected as associate editors of the Gray Light. Douglas Carter was elected sports writer for the Gray Light, while Madeline Sage was elected business manager of the Blue and Gold. Douglas Carter was inducted into the Quill and Scroll.

Quite a few of the members of the sophomore class were members of the Dramatic Club. Betty Sue Adams, Douglas Carter, Sam Long, Jackie Joyner, and Virginia Gilley were stars in several productions. Wilma Beck, Sara Wilson, Jo Ann Clodfelter, and Peggy Jane Brown were outstanding in girls' sports; while J. R. Jones, Coy Bovender, and Bruce Harrison did outstanding work for the boys. Bruce was elected assistant secretary of the Student Organization for the second semester.

"Where, oh, where are the jolly juniors" was never asked about our junior class, as we became really active in many phases of school work. For the first time since we came to Gray, our class became organized and elected the following officers: president, Bruce Harrison; vice-president, Jimmy Cook; secretary, Emma Jean Willard; and treasurer, Dee Smith. "Polly" Estep, Gertrude Hayes, Betty Sue Adams, and Jo Ann Clodfelter were selected to serve as cheerleaders. Bruce Harrison was elected president of the Student Organization for the first semester.

The Hi-Y inducted Mack Goforth, L. D. Hutchins, Coy Bovender, and Sam Long as members from the junior class. The field of journalism was represented again with Gertrude Hayes as associate editor of the Gray Light; Douglas Carter, managing editor; Emma Fogle, editor-in-chief of the Gray Light; and Madeline Sage, feature editor. Emma Jean Willard was senior editor of the Blue and Gold.

The National Honor Society tapped Madeline Sage, Emma Jean Willard, Betty Rominger, Jackie Joyner, and Ralph Atkinson as new members for the second semester. The officers of the National Honor Society were Emma Jean Willard, vice-president; Jackie Joyner, secretary; and Ralph Atkinson, treasurer.

New members received into the Quill and Scroll were Madeline Sage, Emma Jean Willard, and Emma Fogle.

Ralph Atkinson was elected vicepresident of the Student Organization for the second semester.

Marshals elected by the senior class were Emma Jean Willard, chief; Barbara Cook, Betty Sue Adams, Gertrude Hayes, Jackie Joyner, "Polly" Estep, and Peggy Castevens. Emma Jean Willard was chosen as Gray's representative to Girls' State at Woman's College, Greensboro. The annual Junior-Senior banquet on the Roof Garden of the Robert E. Lee Hotel brought a happy ending to a year of hard work.

In the beginning of the senior year the following officers were elected: president, Julius Dease; vice-president, G. C. Jones; secretary, "Polly" Estep; and treasurer, Barbara Cook. Class Day officers were also selected by the senior group. They were testator, Emma Fogle; prophet, Madeline Sage; poet, Betty Wilkes; and historian, Barbara Lemmons. Emma Jean Willard was chosen as the D.A.R. representative for Gray.

Superlatives chosen were as follows: best looking, Barbara Cook and Boyd Stout; best sports, Wilma Beck and Dee Smith; most athletic, Kate Zimmerman and Sam Masten; most intellectual, Madeline Sage and Ralph Atkinson; most popular, Gertrude Hayes and Bruce Harrison; wittiest, Emma Fogle and James Scott; biggest flirts, Virginia Gilley and Ernest Hayes; best-allround, Tina Pappas and Julius Dease; and most likely to succeed, Emma Jean Willard and Ralph Atkinson. Gertrude Hayes was chosen by the student board as the first corresponding secretary of the school.

Ralph Atkinson was elected president of the student organization for the first semester. W. M. Foil served as student director for the band during assemblies and other special programs.

Betty Wilkes, Gertrude Hayes, and Jackie Joyner were inducted into the Quill and Scroll.

Bruce Harrison and Sam Masten were chosen as co-captains for the football team. Seniors who played on the All-Star Football Team were Julius Dease, J. R. Jones, Coy Bovender, Boyd Stout, and H. A. Tesh. Gertrude Hayes was elected as chief cheerleader, with Betty Sue Adams, "Polly" Estep, Jackie Joyner, Sam Long, and Doug Carter on the first string.

The seniors dedicated their portion of the Blue and Gold to Miss Artelee Puett, head of the Commercial Department.

Through the years the happy memories of the friendships formed here at school, both among students and teachers, will "keep coming back like a song, a song that keeps saying 'remember'!"

GRAY LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT OF THE CLASS OF 1947

We, the 1947 graduating class of James A. Gray High School, being of supernatural minds and bodies, and realizing the time of our departure from these halls of learning is drawing near, do declare this to be the last will and testament of our cherished possessions.

ARTICLE I

Section I. To our principal, Mr. J. A. Woodward; Mrs. Velma Fussell; and the entire faculty we leave our sincere appreciation for the understanding patience with which they have helped us over the many rough places in our high school careers.

Section II. With the hope that we have not caused too many gray hairs this year, we will to our senior sponsors, Miss Mary Miller Knox and Mrs. Carrie May Allgood, our undying gratitude for their guidance.

Section III. To the rising senior class we leave our coveted front seats in the auditorium with the hope that it will be able to get in line in time for assembly once during the year.

ARTICLE II

Section I. Sue Adams and Jo Ann Clodfelter leave their love for chocolate milkshakes and their fattening qualities to Marjorie Dwiggins and Betty McBride.

Section II. To Bob Fesperman, J. R. Jones wills his "touchdown technique," hoping that he will use it to help win the city championship next year.

Section III. Regretfully Barbara Cook and Peggy Castevens leave their first-floor lockers, complete with combs, mirrors, and pin-up pictures to Barbara Pappas and Patty Brooks.

Section IV. Ray Irvin wills his "wreck on the highway" to any underclassman with energy enough to push it up Main Street hill.

Section V. Reluctantly, Tom Caudill, Sam Masten and Harry Reavis be-

GRAY CLASS POEM

By Betty Wilkes

In the distance we see that a light is agleam;

It's the light of the end of our way: In the distance we know that a goal awaits us—

It's our triumph—our glorious day.

In that light is the crown of success that we seek,

And our goal—that success to attain; For a life of true service—a life of true strife

We must live if that goal we would gain.

We have leaned toward that goal with our hands outstretched,

With the Blue and the Gold as our guide,

And 'tho barriers may hinder—and wrong paths may lure,

We resolve by her rules to abide.

We're alone, yet together, and forward we go

With our school—dear old Gray—left behind;

All our thanks, all our love, and our memories dear
We shall ever keep foremost in mind.

HANES LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT OF THE CLASS OF 1947

We, the 1947 Graduating Class of John W. Hanes High School, having subnormal minds and metaphysical bodies (thanks to our ape ancestors), do in this year 1947, publish this, our Last Will and Testament.

Section I. To our beloved principal, Mr. Haltiwanger, we, the seniors, leave our most sincere thanks for the personal attention and patience which he has shown us during our sojourn at Hanes High understanding attitude.

Section II. To Miss Dungan, Senior English teacher, we give our deepest gratitude for her expert guidance and understanding attitude.

Section III. To our faculty we give our appreciation for the efforts they made in vain to pierce our craniums in order to inject something called "education."

Section IV. To the rising Senior Class we bequeath "English Heritage," "M. O. S.," and "Old Testament Narratives," in order that we might get revenge for the tortures we have suffered from these three.

ARTICLE II

Section I Troy Bennett leaves his knack for arguing with Miss Dungan to David Bodenhammer, in hopes that he may be more successful..

Section II. Bill Milburn and "Shrimp" Flynt leave their blackface act to Johnny Roland, who must carry on alone.

Section III. W. D. Parrish and Hunter Phillips leave the Monday morning devotional program to the one and only—Bob Gibson.

Section IV. George Shore and Jewel Miller leave the back seat of George's car to Gene Moser, in hopes that Gene will find someone to share it with him.

Section V. Pat Sprinkle, Betty Jo Archer, "Goot" Miller, and Bob Duncan leave the Dragon's Den during the lunch hour to Nancy Haymore, Alice Dooley, and Sara Sappenfield.

Section VI. Charlie Farrell leaves his cheerleading position to any good taker.

Section VII. Juanita Terrell and June Ayers will their ability to collect pennies to Jack Wright.

Section VIII. Frances Barnes, Lettie June Vernon, and Linda Carper leave their sixth-period library table to Peggy Blalock, Wanda Johnson, and Bonnie Isiminger.

Section IX. Bill Nail wishes to give his "love 'em and leave 'em" way with the women to Bill Brown.

Section X. Sterling Smith leaves his football hero gaze to Nick John with sincere hopes that Nick can scare more foes than he did.

Section XI. Frank Tedder leaves basketball to Phil Carter in order that Hanes may re-capture the city championship next year.

Section XII. June Holland leaves all of her man-getting techniques to Mary Ann Sprinkle.

Section XIII. Janice Shelton wills the dirt column of the "Hanes High Rada" to Bob Hale, expert news critic.

Section XIV. Ra'ph Futrell and Bob Snyder bequeath their attractive pompadours to Roy Miller because they think he will need them.

Section XV. Bill Oehman and Joanne Hagood leave the halls of ol' Hanes High to Tommy Rierson and Betty Bowman so that they can get enough time to talk things over.

Section XV. To Hugh Holder, Sam Hardister gives his talent for shadow-boxing.

Section XVII. Bill Milstead leaves his ability for wrecking cars to a promising prospect—Paul Simos!

Section XVIII. Wilson Stewart and Jean Carter leave their cherished locker to "Butch" Williams and his next flame.

Section XIX. J. N. Manuel kindly bestows his intense interest in court cases upon C. W. Southern and Bud Lawson.

Section XX. Joe Phillips wills his proficiency for "knocking down" on the Outside Lunch honestly to Gene Walker, who is sure to acquire a large fortune.

We hereby appoint the two most responsible and upright students of Hanes High School, George Stack and Harvey Crafford, executors of this, our Last Will and Testament.

In Witness hereof, we have affixed our seal, this the third day of June, in the year of our Lord, One Thousand Nine Hundred and Forty-seven.

HANES HISTORY OF THE CLASS OF 1947

In September, 1943, there came to Hanes High School the most exuberant class that had ever entered her portals.

We shall never forget those first days of riding elevators, paying radiator fees, and getting knocked around by those things called swinging doors.

We started off the Freshman year like a loaded cigar. We were going to put our class on the map!

We found that we had a versatile crowd. Aubrey Flynt took the laurels in dramatics his first year; Hunter Phillips went the rounds in athletics; and Joe Phillips was voted the most outstanding Freshman of the year. As our Freshman year drew to an end, we were well on our way in our high school careers.

We started off our Sophomore year with both barrels blazing and a "hankering" to do things this year.

Wilson Stewart, Kenneth Doyle, Frank Tedder, Bill Nail, Bill Andrews, and Hunter Phillips were inducted into the Hi-Y. Our girls and boys were members of various clubs; some of them were participating in sports as we pulled the old bandwagon into the garage ending our Sophomore year.

At last we were on Terra Firma—we were Juniors. Everyone was swelled up with pride and ready to tell those underclassmen who we really were.

Those with the higher upper story were tapped by the National Honor Society. The following people were inducted: Marian Phillips, Joe Phillips, Jackie Adams, Jewel Miller, Janice Shelton, and Sterling Smith.

We had a great deal of promising athletic material. Bob Gibson, Hunter Phillips, Wilson Samart, Bill Freeman, Frank Tedder, and Bill Nail were the Pigskin warriors.

Marian Phillips, Pat Sprinkle, Betty Jo Archer, and Frances Barnes were the girl athletes.

Joe Phillips and Bill Nail were chosen to represent us in Boys' State. Clarice Self went to Girls' State.

We had members in the Debating Club, Excelsior Club, Girl Reserves, Junior Council, and all the other various organizations. We had made all the rounds and pulled all the strings by the time our Junior year ended.

As we enter the home stretch, we find it is 1947. We have at last gained those front-row seats in the auditorium, which we call "The last of the Senior Privileges."

Pauline Chrysikos was made editor of the Purple and Gold. Janice Shelton was made managing editor of Hanes Hi Rada and Purple and Gold and Jewel Miller was made editor of Hanes Hi Rada. These three were also inducted into the Quill and Scroll.

Joe Phillips was elected mayor and Wilson Stewart judge. Bob Gibson was put in as monitor-in-chief of the monitors.

Marian Phillips was chosen for our D.A.R. representative.

We elected as our class officers as following: Wilson Stewart, president; Ralph, Futrell, vice-president; Joe Rierson, secretary; Marian Phillips, treasurer

We had a wonderful year. It was jammed and packed with everything that we could squeeze into it.

They say that all good things must come to an end, but we shall never say good-by to dear old Hanes, because our hearts will swell with pride everytime we hear her dear old name.

We hope as we leave that we have upheld all the standards of the school and that we have set a pace for future classes.

Accelerated High School Program Winston Salam City School

Winston-Salem City Schools

The accelerated high school program was organized to provide an opportunity for veterans and other adults to complete high school or take refresher courses before entering college. The program was extended to include vocational and commercial education classes. The academic and commercial subjects are offered at Reynolds High, machine shop at Hanes, and watch repair at West End.

A veterans' education committee was composed of Mr. J. A. Woodward and Miss Daisy Lee Glasgow of Gray High, Mr. R. H. Haltiwanger and Miss Carrie Dungan of Hanes, Mr. C. R. Joyner and Miss Gladys Moore of Reynolds, Mr. J. W. Moore, Superintendent of schools, and P. B. Raiford, Director Vocational Education. Mr. Raiford was appointed chairman of the committee and director of the program. The committee set up the policies which govern the program and act as an advisory board at all times.

The first classes started February 21, 1946, at Reynolds High. Classes started at Hanes Machine Shop on June 6, 1946, and at the School of Watchmaking on October 7, 1946. Since that time 472 persons have enrolled. Students have enrolled from 36 North Carolina communities and from six towns of other states. One hundred and sixty-nine have graduated from high school, others took refresher courses before entering college, and a very small percentage stopped before completing their objective.

The academic subjects at Reynolds run on an eight weeks semester, giving a student the opportunity to complete one-half year's work in that time. The Machine Shop Course at Hanes runs one year and the School of Watchmaking is set up on a two-year basis. Each school was set up to serve a specific purpose depending on the objectives of the student enrolling.

Students are allowed to graduate from the school of their choice. All out-of-town students transferred their credits to Reynolds High while former students at Gray and Hanes applied to their respective schools for admission to the accelerated high school program. When their work is completed, all credits are transferred back to the high school in which they are enrolled.

The school opened with an enrollment of 52 and eight faculty members. After one year of operation there are 193 students enrolled and there are 17 on the faculty.
